

At Target Recruitment Company we know how the right person in the right job can have a significant positive impact on your business. So we ensure that we have a good understanding of your specific recruitment needs so that we can deliver the best recruitment service possible.

From our point of view, recruiting means much more than simply filling roles. We truly care about our clients, and strive to assist them in building winning teams that will give them a competitive edge in the market.

Our aim is to look beyond the recruitment solution and assist companies with the retention of their most valuable asset, their people.

What we offer companies (Employers):

Target Recruitment Company provides a high-quality service to a diverse range of reputable companies, end clients & contractors within most markets, from the first received communication and request to finally deploying the contracted staff with an professional specialist team force.